Empowering Women and Children Through Yoga

Gratitude in Action for a Global Impact

WELCOME TO YOGA GIVES BACK

Introduction to Yoga Gives Back

Nineteen years ago, Kayoko Mitsumatsu founded YogaGives Back(YGB) in a yoga classroom in Los Angeles. In 2011, we started tracking our impact with 55 mothers and children receiving micro-loans and education funds with a minimum five year commitment per person. We reached our first major milestone in 2017 when that number grew to 1000 lives. In 2025, we supported over 3,500 individuals and our goal is to increase to 5,000 lives in 2026. YGB is now a leader in global yoga communities, scaling an ongoing grassroots campaign to express our gratitude, give back and change lives.

“We work hard to receive the highest grades available for accountability and transparency.”

Our Mission

Engage global yoga practitioners to channel their gratitude into empowering underserved women and children in India through micro-loans, education and community development.

Why it Matters

Why it Matters: YGB's work of gratitude inspires karma yoga (yoga in action) and seva (selfless service) in yoga communities globally. YGB brings the real goal of yoga to the forefront. Your support fuels life-changing opportunities, empowering women and children in India with education and financial independence. Together, we turn gratitude into action, creating lasting impact and brighter futures.

We act with integrity!

The Power of Community

Introducing Our 2026 Theme: GRATITUDE IN ACTION

YOGA GIVES BACK COMMUNITY

Yoga Gives Back unites a global community of changemakers, from yoga practitioners to industry leaders. Our 160+ Global Ambassadors span 30+ countries, who tap into their own communities to share our mission and fundraise. Today, 300 million people enjoy yoga around the world and the yoga industry is estimated to generate 100 billion dollars this year. If a fraction can be redirected to our mission, we can affect dramatic change.

"The daily practice of Ashtanga Yoga has transformed my life and through Yoga Gives Back I have the chance to give something back to the home of Ashtanga Yoga in the world in India. Yoga helps Westerners find peace and thus make their lives more sustainable. With the power of micro-financing Yoga Gives Back helps Indian women gain access to opportunities that would otherwise simply not exist. I am honored to do what I can for Yoga Gives Back."

– Kino MacGregor (Advisor/Ambassador)

"I am so proud to be an ambassador for Yoga Gives Back– an organization that supports the women and children of India. I honor their vision and hard work and know that so many benefit from their dedication to serve a culture and its people who have done so much to enhance the lives and beliefs of yogis like me."

– Seane Corn (Ambassador)

"True change happens when we come together with a shared purpose."

YGB'S GROWTH IN 2024

PARTNERSHIP HIGHLIGHTS & CUSTOMIZATION

Jala

"Beyond fashion, Jala is driven by a purpose greater than ourselves. With every Jala purchase, you become a force for change, as we proudly support Yoga Gives Back. Together, we flow toward a better world, one yoga-inspired step at a time."

Jala's partnership is tailored to meet their CSR goals, while having a profound impact on the success of YGB's programs over the past 10 years. Jala makes annual contributions, donates a percentage of all profits, donates in-kind clothing, and designs and donates YGB's annual limited edition shirts. As a female-owned business, Jala understands the importance of supporting women entrepreneurship.

Liforme

"YGB works hard to ensure that every dollar donated counts as much as possible. Their work is really effective in helping to bridge important inequality gaps in our world."

– James Armitage, Founder of Liforme.

For over eight years, Liforme has stood by our mission, donating over $75K through annual commitments and a percentage of proceeds from a custom charity yoga mat. In 2024 alone, Liforme's contribution ensured 46 young girls in West Bengal would continue their higher education and reach their dreams, avoiding forced early marriage.

This kind of dedication from our corporate partners makes our work possible. If your company is looking for a meaningful way to drive social impact, let's talk! Together, we can change lives.

"This kind of dedication from our corporate partners makes our work possible."

Success Stories

Puja and Riya received YGB's Scholarship for Higher Education and computer skills training in a remote village in West Bengal, India. After earning their college degrees, they found employment at a local bank, where they launched the very first "Village Service Center" to help their underserved community. For the first time ever, this center helps villagers deposit their cash through an online banking service. Puja and Riya wanted to use their knowledge and skills to give back and help their community. Gratitude was the source that sparked Puja and Riya's action. You can watch this story on our YouTube channel.

At just fifteen Rekha was on the verge of being married off when YGB's SHE scholarship changed the course of her life. Ten years later, we had the opportunity to visit Rekha, who is now a teacher at a night shelter for 30 children from lower-caste background in the red light district. These children are unable to attend regular school during the day due to societal stigma. Earning her Bachelor's degree was a turning point for Rekha. "This is my dream job – being able to provide a good education to these deserving children. I want to help these young children to reach to their dreams in their lives."

Vandana came to live at Deenabandhu Trust Home (our NGO partner) when she was two years old as her mother could not take care of her on her own. Being a diligent student, she developed a strong interest in science. YGB's SHE (five-year Scholarship for Higher Education) supported her higher education, and now we are so happy to hear that she was accepted to the postgraduate program for Masters of Computer Application in Mysore.

"Our partners don't just fund programs.
They ignite opportunities, break cycles of poverty and create lasting impact for generations."
